

Tech startup Lexlegis plans ₹400 cr investment in legal services AI app

New Delhi: Tech start-up Lexlegis plans to invest around ₹400 crore to expand the AI tools on its legal services platform for research and application drafting by law firms and professionals, a top company official said on Thursday. While unveiling the app, Lexlegis Solutions managing director Saakar S. Yadav said that the company will provide three modules—‘Ask’ for questions related to various laws, ‘Interact’ for summarising any document and ‘Draft’ for drafting application, appeal etc.

PTI